——Dr. Pride Jones, of Orange, is in the city.

——Pork selling at market at 6 cents per pound.

——There was a decidedly snow-like feeling in the atmosphere yesterday.

——The adding up of the returns of the electoral vote has not yet been completed.

——Not even a case of drunkenness before the Mayor yesterday. An evidence of the hardness of the times.

——The Mayor's office has become the depository for transpariences being prepared for the night of the Vance ovation.

——The following are the counties which have not been heard from on their vote on the State ticket. Ashe, Cherokee, Graham, Halifax, Davidson, Swain and Dare.

——Mr. Neil Smith, of Buckhorn township, Harnett county, reports that out of 116 votes in this township only 6 were cast in the late election for the Radical ticket.

——Our House reporter erred yesterday as to a resolution introduced Wednesday by Dr. Windslow, of Randolph. This resolution was to adjourn on the 1st of December, instead of the 31st, as was stated.

——Barnes Crenshaw tackled Doc Yeates yesterday, near the market, for not returning a borrowed cotton hook and a nice little scuffle would have taken place, but for the timely interference of officer Waters.

——"The Burial of Radicalism" is the title of another cartoon which has been drawn by Mr. W. H. Ferguson, and which will be on exhibition at Enniss' bookstore in a day or two. It is "the sequel," if we may use this term in this connection, to Mr. Ferguson's famous Vance-Settle cartoon issued just before the election.

Money Obtained Under False Pretenses.

A man giving his name as B. Rogers, on yesterday presented for payment to Messrs. Norris & Myatt, a cotton certificate from Mr. Joseph Blake for $257 61. The check was given, but the fraud was soon discovered. Upon consultation with an attorney, a search was immediately begun which resulted in the arrest of a Mr. Ward, of Barton's Creek township, Mr. Myatt identifying him as the man to whom the check was given. Justice Magnin heard the case and bound the defendant over in a bond of $500 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court.

This is not the first attempt recently to obtain money under false pretenses. On Wednesday a Mr. J. P. Yeates presented to Messrs. Rand & Wyatt, a certificate for a bale more than he had delivered. They refused to "pay up" until they had examined that third bale, whereupon he accepted pay for two and quietly departed.

The General Assembly.

Members very freely express the opinion that the General Assembly will adjourn its present term very early, probably about next Wednesday, and re-assemble the 1st of January under the partially new constitution. Very little real legislation can now be done, and the members generally seem disposed to adjourn as early as possible until after the constitutional amendments shall have gone into effect and the new administration shall have taken charge. It is probable that the Legislature would not remain in session as long as next Wednesday, were it not for the receiving of the election returns from several counties and the election of a United States Senator.

Serious Accident.

We were informed last evening that a son of Manly Perry, a highly-esteemed citizen of Chatham, while on his way to Raleigh, was thrown from his wagon and his thigh broken just below its junction with the body. Dr. McClennehan expressed the opinion that the young man would die before reaching home.

The Western North Carolina Railroad.

Maj. W. W. Rollins, the President of the Western North Carolina Railroad, is in the city. He brought with him the report of the commissioners of the road to the General Assembly, presenting it to His Excellency the Governor, and throgh him to the Legislature. The report is quite lengthy, and sets forth fully the present situation and future prospects of the work, as well as a statement of the manner of its operation since coming into its present hands. The commissioners report that when they took charge of the road, October 1st, 1875, they received from W. A. Smith, the receiver, $8,016.54. The gross receipts during the twelve months from October 1st, 1875, to September 30th, 1876, were $94,759 47. The operating expenses were $61,419.16; construction expenses $18,934 85; paid to the State Treasury and Penitentiary Board, $6,171.69; in the hands of agents, $5,704 54; balance in the treasury, $2,529.23.

The report says that the business of the line was as good during the fiscal year just ended as it had been for several previous years. It would have been better, however, but for the Centennial Exhibition, which kept many people from the mountains of our own State.

Three hundred male and 16 female convicts are employed in the construction of the road. The labor is excellent and gives entire satisfaction. The commissioners say that with 500 convicts they can complete the grading of the road to Asheville in another year, and in two years finish the road to the Tennessee connection. A tax of 10 cents on the $100 valuation of property in the State for two years, will furnish sufficient means to complete the road to Paint Rock. The commissioners recommend to the General Assembly the creation of a statutory lien on all the property of the road in favor of the State, for such expenditures as have been or may be made upon it.

Accompanying this communication is a lengthy report from T. H. Allen, Esq., the chief engineer of the road, giving a statement of his department of the work on the road.

North Carolina and Virginia Christian Conference.

A correspondent writes us: "The North Carolina and Virginia Christian Conference convened at Salem Chapel, Forsythe county, on last Friday, and was permanently organized by electing Rev. W. S. Long, President, Rev. D. A. Long, Secretary, and Rev. J. W. Holt Assistant Secretary.

"About fifty-six ministers and delegates answered to their names. The usual committees have been appointed. Perhaps few sections of the old North State can surpass this for hospitality. Fraternal messengers have been appointed to the M. E. Conference which meets in Greensboro, the M. P. Conference which meets within four miles of Greensboro, the North Carolina Deep River Conference, the Eastern Virginia Christian Conference and the Virginia Valley Christian Conference.

"The attendance of visitors is large. Everybody appears to be in a good humor. A pleasant and profitable session has been held thus far."

The State Treasury Transfer---What Treasurer Worth Says.

The treasury department was open yesterday under its new administration. Dr. Worth was in full possession, and looked as much at home behind the counter as if he had grown up there. The transfer was made in one day, an inventory having already been taken of everything in the office, and everything listed. The kindliest relations existed between the two treasurers, Mr. Jenkins doing all in his power to assist Dr. Worth in assuming the office.

There was turned over to the new treasurer, the sum of $151,964.85½ in money. This included $86,500 of United States government bonds belonging to the school fund. The other effects of the office covered 31 pages of legal cap—bonds, coupons, &c. There are many bonds of different classes, some of them little better than worthless.

The losses in the eight years and nearly six months during which Mr. Jenkins has been treasurer, amounted to $126 77. This was made good by the retiring treasurer. During all of his administration not a single counterfeit has been put upon the treasury.

Mr. Jenkins goes out of the office which he has filled so long and so acceptably, with clean hands. He has administered it during a singularly trying time, and administered it well. In his successor is found a gentleman who is able, worthy, capable and honest. The people of North Carolina are to be congratulated that the office has fallen into such hands.

The Cause of His Success.

The wonderfully good luck which has always attended our Governor ever since he first entered politics before the war, is frequently a subject of remark. One of the knowing ones remarked the other day, upon hearing of his appointment of Faircloth to the vacant place on the Supreme Court bench, that Brogden was looking to the future in this thing, expecting Faircloth's support for new honors when his present term in Congress expires. "Oh, yes," was the response, "by granny, he's always looking ahead and that's the cause of his luck. When he ain't fishing he is mending his net!"

Well, forcibly and truly said!

Meeting of the Board of Public Charities.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Charities, held in Raleigh, Nov. 20th, 1876, President C. Tate Murphy, M. D., in the chair and C. B. Denson, Secretary, the president made a statement of the operations of the board, and the present status of the charitable institutions throughout the State, the jails, poor-houses, &c., of the various counties.

On motion, it was resolved that a committee of the board should visit the several charitable and penal institutions of the State, in Raleigh, during the present session.

On motion of Dr. G. W. Blacknall, it was resolved to postpone the presentation of the annual report until the reassembling of the Legislature in January.

After discussion, it was resolved that when the business of this session is concluded, the board would adjourn until the second Thursday in January next.

The South Carolina News.

The city was in high spirits yesterday afternoon over a telegram which was received here by Col. A. S. Buford, from Gen. Bradley T. Johnston, who is in Columbia, S. C., saying that the Supreme Court had declared unconstitutional, null and void, the recent action of the board of canvassers, and commanded a mandamus to issue to them. The purport of this dispatch is embraced in an associated press dispatch which appears in our telegraphic columns this morning. The news raised Democratic spirits to a considerably higher pitch than they have gone for some days past, and inspired fresh hopes that the counting out would, after all, turn out a Tilden triumph.

Person Street Church Oyster Supper.

Metropolitan Hall was crowded last evening, some listening to the sweet music rendered by the Citizens' Silver Cornet Band, under the leadership of Prof. Martin Thompson—others partaking of the excellently cooked oysters. The services of beautiful girls were secured to attend the tables and hand around the many luxuries with which they were heavily laden. The proceeds of the evening were very satisfactory. They go toward the liquidation of little debts contracted by the Person Street M. E. Church.

The Public Printing.

The joint caucus of the Democratic members of the General Assembly, at their meeting last night, awarded the State printing to Johnstone Jones, Editor of the DAILY NEWS

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

SESSION OF 1876-'77.

SENATE.

FOURTH DAY.

THURSDAY, Nov. 23.

The Senate was called to order at 11 a. m., Mr. President Robinson in the chair.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

The chair announced petitions and memorials in order.

Senator Stickney, of Pitt, presented a petition for the relief of the sheriff of Beaufort county. Calendar.

Senator Latham, of Washington, reported the result of the election of enrolling clerk, held on yesterday.

Senator Troy, of Cumberland, presented the report of the committee on rules of the Senate, and also the report of the joint committee on rules, recommending that they be the same as those of 1872.

By Senator Moore, col., of New Hanover, a bill to incorporate the Laborers' Union of Wilmington.

By Senator Latham, a resolution in regard to assistants and subordinates in the Senate and House. Calendar.

By Senator Sandifer, of Gaston, an act to amend sub-section 9, section 34, chapter 17, Battle's Revisal. Calendar.

Senator Troy moved to suspend the rules to take up the report of the committee of the Senate on rules and also the report of the joint committee on rules. [The rules are the same as those of 1872 except that they report in favor of a committee on county government.] The report was adopted.

Senator Troy moved that 100 copies of the rules of the Senate be printed.

After a great deal of debate between Senators Troy, Sandifer, Marler, Albright, Graham and others, the motion was carried.

Senator Troy moved that 200 copies of the joint rules be printed, for the use of the members of both houses. Adopted.

At this juncture the oath of office was administered to the enrolling clerk.

Senator Latham moved that his resolution regarding employees in the two houses (proposing to reduce the number) be taken from the calendar, the rules suspended and the resolution put upon its passage.

The rules were suspended and the resolution passed and was sent to the House without engrossment.

Senator Williams, of Wilson, introduced a resolution to extend the time of the sheriffs of Franklin, Nash, Wilson and Duplin. He moved that the rules be suspended and the bill put upon its readings.

Senator Graham objected, saying that if one sheriff was relieved all would ask for it except, perhaps, a dozen. He thought it a bad precedent.

Senator Boddie supported the proposition of Senator Williams.

The question was put, and the motion to suspend the rules was lost.

CALENDAR.

The bill of Senator Mebane, of Rockingham, asking for information in regard to the public debt, was taken up. He moved to suspend the rules, and there being no objection, the rules were suspended and the resolution adopted. Engrossed and sent to the House.

The other bills on the calendar were passed over or indefinitely postponed.

The Senate then, on motion of Senator Green, of Craven, adjourned until to-morrow morning 10 o'clock.

Fastest Possible Northern Mail.

The people of Raleigh now receive their mails in the quickest possible time from New York. Letters and newspapers that left New York on the morning of the 22nd, reached Raleigh yesterday, the 33d, at 12 M. by the way of Goldsboro. This is ten hours ahead of former mails by the Raleigh and Gaston road.

This is up to the top notch of rapid running. The northern mails will now be sent from and received at Raleigh twice a day by the two routes above mentioned.

Lecture at Commons Hall.

Mr. Josiah Turner lectured yesterday afternoon at the hall of the House of Representatives, to some of the members of the Legislature, and some others, not members. He spoke upon rings and railroads, and told how the rings run hotels and cheap newspapers.

The retention of any waste matter in the system produces injury. The collection of "phlegm" or diseased mucus in time of cold or throat affection should be promptly removed. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup does it more quickly and effectually than any other cough syrup made.

THE counting was more quiet yesterday. The prospect of a peaceful solution of the Presidential difficulty brightens.

THE Republican Supreme Court in South Carolina has check-mated the Radical game in that State. This is an unexpected turn in affairs, as surprising as it is gratifying.

THE chances for Tilden in South Carolina were improved on yesterday by the decision of the Supreme Court of the State, to the effect that the action of the Returning Board in counting out Hampton was revolutionary, and the proceedings null and void. It must be borne in mind that this court is composed of three Republicans—Chief Justice Moses, a leading white Radical; Judge Willard, a carpet-bagger; and Judge Wright, a negro. Thus, the right triumphs over the Republican wrong, in a Republican court. This is an assurance, that whatever legal obstacles may be put in the way; whatever complications may arise, the Democratic party is sustained by the Republican Supreme Court, in the matter of the vote of the State. The South Carolinians have but to be patient, and depend upon quiet, constitutional, legal means for the vindication of their rights as American freemen.

THE INAUGURATION.

We are approaching a most serious crisis in the affairs of this government. It is well for the citizens of the South to realize what may occur in the near future. Our Northern cotemporaries throw a vast amount of light on the situation. The New York World says:

Much of the speaking and writing about the possible result of an unjust and illegal return made by the New Orleans board, appears to proceed on the idea that what we are in the habit of calling "the inauguration of the President" will necessarily be a turning point in the legal relations of the situation. On that theory, it may be, an army is to be concentrated in and about Washington,—a movement which is well enough, and proper enough, perhaps, if the authorities have good reason to think violence is meditated by the Radicals, or any one else. But of what legal consequence are the pomp and ceremony of what we call "inauguration day?" If a candidate is lawfully declared to be elected, all that is needed to make him President is that he take the oath of office prescribed in the Constitution, and that oath can be taken before any magistrate competent under Federal law to administer oaths. If we mistake not, the oath of Vice-President King was administered to him in Cuba. The oath has heretofore been taken by the President before the Chief-Justice, but there is no efficacy in him in such matters, above any other Federal magistrate, nor is there any special virtue in the Capitol as the place. It is not necessary that either Tilden or Hayes be in Washington when the competent authority declares either of them duly elected to be President, and, according to the legal ideas of the present Administration, it is not required that either be in Washington to execute the office of President. President Grant issued his important orders of the 10th instant to the army from Philadelphia. Occupation of the White House is, on those ideas, not vital to valid acts by the President. The result of a foot-race for that edifice can therefore be thrown out of the calculation.

Nor do we believe there is to be an unseemly row between the House and the Senate, if it shall be found that the two bodies disagree (and we do not think they will disagree when all the facts are assembled) over the right of the votes of any State to be counted. If, when they meet to examine the votes, a member of either body objects to counting any State, we assume that the Senate will with dignity retire, if the hall of the House be the place of meeting, and enable the House to deliberate, and itself to deliberate thereon, with propriety and decorum. If, on reassembling, both houses agree to reject the State, does any one suppose that the President of the Senate will persist in counting it? If the two houses disagree, will the President of one body any the more be disposed to count it? But if the House decides to exclude, and the Senate to include, the contested State; if the President of the Senate nevertheless counts it and declares Governor Hayes to be President; and if the House, on the other hand decides that no candidate had a majority of all the electors "appointed," and then elects Governor Tilden to be President, and so declares and so informs him? Then we have the spectacle of two Presidents, both claiming to be legally elected, both taking the oath of office before a competent magistrate, and the House upholding Tilden and the Senate recognizing only Hayes. On neither theory can Grant be in office after the 4th of March to command the army or anything else. He can possibly, before his term expires, convene the next Congress to meet on the 5th of March, 1877, but the two houses of that Congress would probably differ just as the two houses of the present Congress differ.

Now there is not necessarily any riot or tumult or revolution in Washington over this condition of two Presidents. All executive officers, including army and navy officers, would, to be sure, need to decide, each for himself, which of the two he would obey. The Senate and House, of course, would not agree about legislation. Neither President would venture to take, or order to be taken, any money out of the Treasury without an appropriation therefor by Congress. The existing annual appropriations would endure till the 1st of next July, and then neither President would have public funds to pay any official, civil or military.

The people of the United States ought to be able, and are able, to look all these contingencies calmly in the face, because they ought to be, and are, capable of self-government. They are not children or hysterical persons, from whom a statement of possible peril is to be withheld. On the contrary, it is for the public good that, while the general temper is so amiable and healthful, the people get a clear and comprehensive view of what may happen if the President of the Senate persists in counting a State which at least one house of Congress, and which a great majority of candid persons may think it is wrong, illegal and fraudulent to count. The collecting of troops in Washington, or the rumor of such collecting, compels the country to put on its "thinking-cap!"

The necessity of taking an oath of allegiance to the excommunicated King Victor Emanuel has seriously interferred with the participations of any good Catholic in Italian Parliamentary elections. A paper, believed to be official, recently appeared in a journal in Rome, giving the faithful freedom to take the oath of allegiance by adding the words "save the laws on sacred and ecclesiastical subjects," which is a large reservation in Italian code.

Gen. Phil. Sheridan said, in 1867, about that honest and truly-good presiding officer of the Louisiana Returning Board, J. Madison Wells: "I say now unequivocally that Governor Wells is a political trickster and a dishonest man. I have seen him during the July riot of 1866 skulk away where I could not find him to give him a guard, instead of coming out as a manly representative of the State and joining those who were preserving the peace. I have watched him since, and his conduct has been as sinuous as the mark left in the dust by the movements of a snake. I say again that he is dishonest."

POLITICAL NOTES.

J Madison Wells, the distinguished presiding officer of the Returning Louisiana Board, stole $88,000 when he was tax collector in Rapides Parish.

The official returns from one hundred and eleven counties in Kentucky give Tilden a majority of 61,941. The five counties yet to hear from gave McCreary a majority of 203. Gov. McCreary's majority was 36,181.

"All the prosperous agricultural communities in the United States are for Hayes," says the New York Graphic But then the Graphic knows very well that under Republican rule there are no "prosperous agricultural communities in the United States."

It has been discovered at Albany N. Y., that the pay of Presidential electors, who really serve not over two days, is $1,500, or as the law says, "the same amount allowed at the time to members of the Legislature." When the law was passed in 1842, the pay of members was $3 a day for not more than 100 days; but the change in the Constitution increasing their pay made no change in the law relative to electors' pay, so that $1,500 is now the actual pay of a Presidential elector.

Gradually the errors and shortcomings of the Republican Party in the treatment of the South, are, in one form or another, "thronging to the bar, and crying all, guilty, guilty." We are learning little by little, that "troops" cannot save us, nor vituperation, nor the negro vote, nor the "party-record." There is to us, considering the history of the Federal Administration in Louisiana, with its Packards and Caseys and Durells and Billingses, something absolutely solemn in the retribution which makes it possible for that wretched Returning Board—so sternly condemned last year for its frauds by Messrs. Wheeler, Frye and Hoar—to elect Hayes, and make Hayes' best friends tremble at the thought of his entering the White House by such means. The time for settling this matter by the aid of old passions or memories is clearly gone by. The situation is one which needs hard, manly thinking and manly facing of unpleasant and disappointing facts.—N. Y. Nation.

DUNHAM ELECTED.

The Representatives from New Hanover—An Argument to Show that Maj. John W. Dunham is Elected to the House.

[Cape Fear.]

The subjoined argument is from the pen of a member of the Wilmington bar:

It will not materially change the political complexion of the next General Assembly whether the Democratic majority be increased by the addition of one member to the number which are already ascertained to be elected, or whether that number be diminished by one; but it does materially affect the interests of the white people and property-owners of Wilmington and New Hanover, that they should be properly represented in the body which will necessarily be required to shape the legislation of the State under the adopted Constitutional Amendments. Since the adoption of the Constitution of '67 the people of New Hanover, who own ninety-nine hundreths of the property of the city and county, and who necessarily bear the burdens of taxation for the support of the city and county governments, besides contributing their very large proportion of the State's revenue, have had no voice in the legislation of the State, and no one who could properly present their grievances or explain their wants. Now that the Constitutional Amendments have been ratified by the people, and the Legislature has become thereby clothed with the constitutional powers which were necessary to tear down the costly fabric which the framers of the Canby Constitution elected, not for the protection but the oppression of an impoverished people, and now that a Legislature has been elected which has the will, as well as the ability to build up in its stead a system of laws which are adapted to the wants and requirements of all men of all classes, it is unquestionably desirable that New Hanover should have in the Legislature a representative man.

That it is impossible for the county to be so represented, it is the object of this communication to set forth.

No one will question that W. H. Moore, colored, has been elected to the Senate, and that J. C. Hill, colored, and James Wilson have been elected to the House. It seems to be easy of demonstration that Maj. John W. Dunham, one of the Democratic candidates, has been likewise elected to the House, and is entitled to take his seat in that body on the meeting of the General Assembly. I beg for space to give the reasons for his claim.

The Legislature of 1874-'75 passed an act to establish the county of Pender. At the same session an act supplemental to this act was passed, in which it was provided that—

'Sec. 4. At the election to be held on the first Thursday in August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, for members of the House of Representatives, the county of New Hanover shall elect two members and the county of Pender shall elect one member which arrangement shall continue until the next apportionment."

Maj. Dunham's title to a seat in the House of Representatives, recently chosen, turns upon the question as to whether the Legislature of 1874-'75 had the constitutional right or power to enact the clause above recited. If the Legislature had the authority to put the above clause in the act referred to, then Alfred Lloyd, colored, who was the Republican candidate for the House in Pender county, and who received the majority of the votes polled in that county, is entitled to a seat; but if the above clause of the act be unconstitutional, there was no authority for holding separate elections for members of the House of Representatives in the counties of Pender and New Hanover, and therefore the election in New Hanover and Pender was held as if the above clause had never been enacted. This being the case, the county of New Hanover and Pender was held as if the above clause had never been enacted. This being the case, the county of New Hanover is entitled to three members of the House, and the three candidates who received the highest number of votes are elected. Major Dunham received 1 621 votes—one more than Mr. Pearce received, and is one of the three who received the highest number cast—the Republican candidate. Lloyd, having received only 1,251 votes.

A brief reference to the constitutional provisions which have a bearing on this question, must establish the fact that the above clause is unconstitutional.

The Constitution, Art. II. Sec. 4., provides that "until the first session of the General Assembly, which shall be had after the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one, the Senators shall be elected from districts constituted as follows:"—then follows a list of the districts. This is an apportionment of the Senators made by the Constitution itself, and continued in force "until the first session of the General Assembly" which was had "after the year of eighteen hundred and seventy-one." The Legislature of 1872-'72, in accordance with this clause of the Constitution, passed an act, (Battle's Revisal, Chap. 52,) making a new apportionment of the State for both Senators and members of the House of Representatives, giving to New Hanover, one Senator and three Representatives—and provided (Sec. 2) that "until the General Assembly shall have made the new apportionment, as provided by the Constitution and laws of North Carolina, the House of Representatives shall be composed of members elected from the counties in the followiug manner, to wit:"—giving New Hanover three members.

Now, can the clause referred to in the act creating the county of Pender, which provides for the separate representation of that county, be said to be an apportionment?

Even granting for the sake of argument, that the Legislature possessed the constitutional authority to make a new apportionment at its session of 1874-'75, the session when the county of Pender was established, it can hardly be contented that the clause giving separate representation in the House to Pender and New Hanover, is such an apportionment as is contemplated by the Constitution.

But the General Assembly has no power under the Constitution to make another apportionment for the Senate after that made by the Legislature of 1871-'72, until a new census is taken in the year 1880 under the act of Congress. Sec. 5, Art. II. of the Constitution, as amended, clearly makes this provision. And Sec. 6 of the same article provides that the apportionment for the House "shall be made by the General Assembly at the respective times and periods when the districts for the Senate are directed to be laid off."

So that it would seem to be clear that the county of Pender is not entitled to representation separate from New Hanover. The conclusion follows that Maj. Dunham is entitled to his seat, he having received 1,-621 votes, which makes him one of the three who received the highest number of votes cast in both New Hanover and Pender.

Massing Troops at Washington—A Prominent Officer's Statement.

The most plausible theory yet afforded in explanation of the necessity claimed to exist for the presence of an armed force here was given tonight by a prominent officer of the War Department during a conversation with your correspondent. He says that the advertisement has been widely made of the democratic ratification meeting to take place in this city on the 29th of this month. It is understood that it is to be one of the largest of its kind ever had at the Capitol. It is that it will be characterized by illuminated transparencies and banners, which may prove offensive and irritating.

Belknap, Babcock and others whose reputations have suffered and who have hosts of local admirers are to be cartooned and satirized. Now as there are about 10,000 colored republicans in Washington it is possible that here and there on the street corners disturbances may arise and result in a conflict between the two parties which will end in a riot or other disastrous breach of the peace and in fatal consequences to both sides from the indiscriminate use of fire-arms; unless quelled no one can tell where the trouble may end. This probability is increased by the fact that several thousand visiting celebrants of the jollification will come variously from Baltimore and Maryland, adjacent to Washington, while almost the whole of the population from Alexandria and other near points in Virginia, will help to swell the crowd. In the present high state of partisan feeling it is feared that this mass of processionists may not be possessed of any large amount of good temper, and in the event of a collision it would be most requisite that a sufficient force should be at hand to check a disturbance at its outbreak.

THE REASON FOR ASSEMBLING TROOPS.

This is alleged to be the immediate reason for assembling troops in the national capitol at this time, why they have been so hastily summoned here. It is argued on the part of the administration that since the presence of troops had such a good effect in South Carolina and Louisiana they will also be of great advantage here in preventing any breach of the peace or any danger to the safety of the capital, which has an insignicant police force. The administration say there is no intention on its part to interfere with the political doings of either party, but that it is its bounden duty to take all measures to prevent any outrage or breach of the peace. About 1,000 troops in all will constitute the extent of the force, which will be kept at hand subject to the orders of the government. The statement that a force of 10,000 would be gathered is declared to be absurd.

The Kind of Man the Governor of Florida Is.

Governor Stearns, of Florida, whose duty it is to sign, seal and forward the official returns of the election in that State, is the gentleman whom the Hon. Wm J. Purman, (R-p.) from the First Florida district, exposed in such a terrible manner last March in the House, in making some personal explanation in regard to the charge of selling a naval cadetship which had been brought against him. As the testimony comes from Republican sources and from a man posted as to the true inwardness of things, it becomes interesting just now, when Stearns is to take a responsible part in declaring the vote of Florida. After stating that Governor Stearns was a rival of the same political faith with himself, Purman said:

"Why, sir, this man who is now by some inscrutable dispensation of Providence acting as our governor is indebted alone to my personal friendship for his admission as a member into our constitutional convention in 1868, as upon my friendship depended his fate either of coming into notice or sinking back into obscurity, as in himself he combines no characteristics that would distinguish him above the common level. In 1872 this man was pressed forward by one of our then United States Senators for the Republican nomination of Governor, but his want of learning and calibre, and his unpopular record, were of such a character that the convention rebelled against both his master, the Senator, and the tool that was to be foisted upon the party, and in this opposition it was my fate to bear no insignificant part. My vehement objections then were based upon his lack of qualifications, he being a man with very limited education, with no reputable associations, without sagacity or knowledge, with no accomplishments of person or mind, and with no fixed principles except those of avarice and stupidity.

"It was then well known and substantiated that while this now acting Governor was agent of the Freedmen's Bureau in the State he swindled the freedmen out of quantities of provisions which the Government charitably contributed in those unsettled days to keep from starvation the then newly-freed people, a portion or quantity of which he from time to time sold for money to the planters, thus shamefully swindling both a beneficent government and the deserving and suffering objects of this beneficent kindness. This record was too damaging to obtain for him the coveted nomination of Governor, but by some injudicious compromise he was at that time nominated for Lieutenant-Governor.

"What strange, fantastic tricks does destiny play with States as well as with individuals. Who could then have divined that Providence had in store for us the infliction of this obesity of incompetency as our future Governor? The unfortunate death of Governor Hart in 1874, precipitated this phlegmatic incubus upon our State; and as South Carolina once had its Moses, and New York its Tweed, so Florida has now its Stearns.

"Even now this embodiment of our political woes is attempting to run his administration without the check or co-operation of the legislative department of the State government. By a technicality in a new amendment to our State constitution the regular session of our Legislature could not convene in January last, and it became therefore the constitutional duty of the Governor to call an extra session to provide for the current expenditure of the year 1876, but from some indefinable fear he refuses to call such extra session, and our State is left in the strange anomaly of being without any appropriations for the current year, and its term of office expires at the meeting of the next regular Legislature. A guilty conscience needs no accuser, and the indignation among all good people in our State, irrespective of party, is justly great and severe against such an unprecedented and arbitrary administration of a people's government."

"O wearisome condition of humanity!"

How many wretched homes in our land! How many heart-broken invalids! Life with many signifies a mere onerous existence. All are subject to disease, but when health is removed the hope is nearly gone out. Sickness is usually incurred through exposure or carelessness. Especially is this true with those diseases peculiar to woman. Through her own imprudence and folly she is made to drag out a miserable existence—a source of annoyance and anxiety to her friends, and any thing but a comfort and pleasure to herself. Exposure to the cold at times when she should be most prudent, and overtaxing her body with laborious employment, are both fruitful causes of many of the maladies from which she suffers. Gradually the bloom leaves her checks, her lips grow ashy white, her vivacity departs, she continually experiences a feeling of weariness and general languor, and altogether presents a ghostly appearance. What does she need? Should she take some stimulating drug, which will for the time make her "feel better," or does her entire system demand reparation? She requires something which not only will restore to health the diseased organs, but will tone and invigorate the system. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do this. It imparts strength to the diseased parts, brings back the glow of health, and restores comfort where previously there was only suffering.

Every invalid lady should send for "The Peoples Common Sense Medical Adviser," in which over fifty pages are devoted to the consideration of those diseases peculiar to Women. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address, for $1.50. Address, R. V. Pierce, M. D., World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y. Agents wanted to sell this valuable work.

CHANGE OF TRADE MARK.

Ammoniated Soluble Superphosphate | Ammoniated Soluble Superphosphate

THE STAR AMMONIATED SOLUBLE SUPER PHOSPHATE, having gained on its own merits, the greatest reputation of any Fertilizer ever sold in the United States.—Other manufacturers, are using the word mark of the "STAR," for their articles, much inferior in quality, and the cost 100 per cent less. In order to make money or themselves, regardless of the interest of the poor farmer. The manufacturers of the original "STAR," with ourselves have determined, in order to prevent the great imposition now being practiced in some parts of the United States, and to save the name of that formerly known as the "STAR" to change the trade mark to L. & R. with the above cut which has been duly patented Next Season each sack will contain precisely the same Fertilizer as we sold last season, but will be stamped with the new trade mark. and the words will be printed on the back of each sack with the analysis. We refer to all farmers who have used the STAR as to the reputation and value of the article as a Fertilizer.

FORMERLY THE STAR AMMONIATED

SOLUBLE

NOON DISPATCHES

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Opinions of the Metropolitan Press on the Action of the Returning Board.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Times says: "The South Carolina board of canvassers have recognized, though somewhat late, their mistake in submitting their action to the review and control of the Supreme Court. In issuing its orders to a judicial body of entirely independent jurisdiction, that court was guilty of manifest usurpation. In consenting to argue the case before the court the board of canvassers gave these orders the appearance of validity, which could not otherwise be enclarined for them. The clear intention of a majority of the Supreme Court was to do the work of the Democrats at whatever sacrifice of constitutional right and common justice."

The World says: "The board of canvassers yesterday state the electoral vote of that State openly from the Supreme Court, with the avowed object of offering it to Hayes. The robbery was brazen and shameless, and it rests with the American people to decide whether they will surrender the control of their government into such hands or maintain their liberties, self respect and prosperity by enforcing the remedies of the law against a lawless conspiracy without parallel in our annals."

The Herald says: "This is very sharp practice, and if the Supreme Court cannot support its authority, which the board has defied, the State must be counted for Hayes. The audacity of this act betrays great desperation and if the work is not undone in the course of justice it will stand as a monument of infamy."

The Post says the best thing the South Carolina board of canvassers can do is to reassemble. The country will not be satisfied with proceedings which look like sharp practice. We admit that the Supreme Court itself is not free from a suspicion of sharp practice. No appearance of judicial sharp practice however can excuse the sharp practice of the canvassers. In the first place the Conservative opinion of the country demands respect for the judgments of the constituted tribunals. It is better that a decision which is wrong shall be obeyed than that it shall be disobeyed even to secure a right end. The proceedings of yesterday in South Carolina will not convince the country that the canvass is honest and fair.

The Arrival of the Franklin.

SANDY HOOK, Nov. 23; 10:50 A. M.—The Franklin is now lying off the light ship. There is a government steamer going off to her.

FOREIGN.

A Crisis in Eastern Affairs--Troops Ready for Operation--Opinion of the London Times--Harbors Obstructed --Heavy Failure--Marriage of King Alfonso, &c.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A Belgrade dispatch to the Daily News says a crisis seems approaching in Eastern affairs. Russians are coming in great numbers. Servia will be the extreme right wing of Russian operations. Servians will be sent to Bosnia under their own officers. Roumanian pontoon trains are all on the Danube ready for operation.

The Times' editorial says: "We enter into the conference of powers with something more than a hope of peace. For the attainment of peace we shall support any proposals that offer a guarantee, of the orderly government of the insurgent provinces without involving a rectification of international frontiers. If our labors are fruitless we shall not throw ourselves on the side of either combatant, but shall watch what the future may bring forth."

Russia has given official notice that the harbors of Adessa, Sebastopol and the mouths of the river Dnieper and the Straits of Kertch are obstructed.

Alfred Allatt, the head of a firm of accountants, Sheffield, has failed; liabilities, $1,000,000.

The hundred million rubles which Russia is now raising has been already consumed by military expenses.

Servia claims in the line of demarcation several villages in the Turkish territory. It is apprehended that these claims will be made a pretext for collisions, whenever suitable.

MADRID, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Daily News says the Spanish government has determined to execute the men who seized the steamer Montezuma, whenever captured.

Armed vessels will hereafter convoy merchant vessels in Cuban waters. The meritime powers have assented to this arrangement.

The marriage between King Alfonzo and the daughter of the Duke De Montpensier is now reported to be definitely arranged.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Excitement, but no Violence--The Canvass of the Returns to be Carried to the Courts--A Member of the Board Resigned.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 23.—Considerable excitement is reported throughout the State, but no demonstration of violence or lawlessness. The action of the board of State canvassers is considered final by the Republicans, while the Democrats claim that it has no effect, because the whole question was in the hands of the Supreme Court, and the board is guilty of contempt. They express a determination to continue in the courts and bring matters to a conclusion there. Last night the Democratic council served the writ of mandamus issued yesterday by the board. The Supreme Court meets tomorrow to hear the returns of the board. W. H. Purvis, Adjutant and Inspector General, and member of the board of canvassers, says he has resigned his office.

Marine Disasters.

NORFOLK, Nov. 23.—The schooner Dolly Varden of New York, for Cape Haytien, is here in distress.

The schooner J. S. Lockwood, loaded with lumber, from Jacksonville for New York is ashore. The crew were saved in the boat. The cargo is in a critical situation.

Tweed's Arrival.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Tweed landed from the tug "Catalpa" at pier 4 North River to-day.

LOUISIANA.

Meeting of the Returning Board--Its Proceedings.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—The canvassing board met to-day. The committees were present. Judge Spafford, the counsel for the Democratic candidates, filed a statement to the effect that the returns of the supervisors for fourteen parishes which had not been received by the board had been in the city some time in the hands of Republican supervisors or the Republican candidate for Congress. Proofs of truth were submitted and a motion made that the papers be ordered before the board. The order, as requested, was issued on motion of Gen. Anderson.

No Further Danger from Yellow Fever at Savanah.

SAVANAH, GA., Nov. 23.—The epidemic here is over and travelers need fear no danger in coming to or passing through this city on the way to Florida or any points South. All absentees have returned and business is going on as usual.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—For the South Atlantic States, south-west winds, stationary pressure and temperature and cloudy weather will prevail.

Dear Sir—I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural journals of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the "North Carolina Farmer," than in any dozen copies of the agricultural papers I have taken, and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State, as the paper for him, above all others.
